

At Freudenberg, the digitalization of our processes and business model is seen as the vital part of our long-term growth strategy and as a strategic differentiator. Within these initiatives, ERP applications are most relevant in establishing a core platform for largely digitalized processes, functions and collaboration models throughout our group of companies.

Internal Consultant for ERP Applications (m/f/d)

Responsibilities:

- Ensure application management of the current local system landscape around the ERP solution Microsoft Axapta and other applications (e.g. variant configurators)
- Design, specify and accompany end-to-end implementation of ERP solutions in SAP S/4 and act as the single point of contact towards our internal ERP users in Denmark
- Advise the local business on digitalization opportunities and perform business process analysis and maturity assessments
- Perform functional process deep-dives and specify the as-is process design together with local functional experts and subject matter experts as well as with process owners from the headquarter
- Work in the matrix organization and align closely with process owners from the headquarter and with solution architects and SAP ERP consultants from the central IT
- Manage (sub)projects as part of the further development and optimization of the ERP landscape
- Manage external consultants and the collaboration with experts from our shared service center based in India/ Chennai

Requirements:

- Master degree in Business administration/ Information Management (or comparable)
- 3+ years professional experience in the application management of ERP solutions and business process management
- First Experience in Project Management, preferably in ERP template rollout projects w
- Technical skills and basic experiences in applications development are beneficial
- Strong problem-solving and analytical skills
- Strong communication and change management skills
- Ability to translate business requirements into solution designs
- Basic IT-architecture and security understanding
- Passion for change, creativity, new ideas and desire to grow professionally
- Pro-activity and capability to work independently and as part of a team
- Ability to partner closely with key business stakeholders
- Strong written and verbal English communication skills due to internationality of our ERP projects
- Willingness to travel up to 20%

If you enjoy collaborating with others, while improving technology, processes, systems, and performance, then this is the moment to join Freudenberg and become part of a great team!